

The Australia Pacific LNG Project will generate significant benefits at regional, State and national levels, including:

- Significant capital investment through to 2020
- Creation of a new, long-term gas processing and export industry in Queensland
- Creation of up to 5,000 direct jobs during the peak construction phase which includes the gas fields, pipeline route and LNG facility
- Creation of 1,000 jobs during the operation of the Project
- Opportunities to increase local skills capacity via apprenticeships, scholarships and vocational training
- Expenditure in regional economies through the purchase and use of local goods and services, where practicable.

The Project is expected to boost the Queensland economy by $A2 billion annually.
